Sons Save Mother From Gun Blows

Heroic Action by Boys
Takes Place at Farm Home

Heroic action of two young boys is credited with saving their mother from death yesterday at the hands of a killer who seconds before fatally shot a DP woman as she lay in bed beside her four-year-old son.

In Edmonton General Hospital today is Mrs. M. Kozdrowski, 34, of Brookville district, suffering from scalp and face wounds after what police termed murder-suicide motivated by thwarted love.

Dead are Olga Kendus, 27, and Mike Stepas, 47, also of Brookville district.

The Brookville district is 20 miles east of Edmonton. Stepas, RCMP say, entered the house at dawn yesterday, shot the woman as she lay in bed, and, after a battle with Mrs. Kozdrowski and her two sons, plunged to his death in a well half a mile from the farm. The story of the dawn shogun slaying and the desperate battle which followed was told yesterday afternoon by the two young heroes, Stan Kozdrowski, 14, and his 12-year-old brother Marshall.

Here is Stanley's description of what happened shortly before 7 a.m. in his farm home about 27 miles east of Edmonton.

"My mother had just woke me up and told me that Mike Stepas had come in. She told me to get in a well half a mile from the farm. The story of the dawn shogun slaying and the desperate battle which followed was told yesterday afternoon by the two young heroes, Stan Kozdrowski, 14, and his 12-year-old brother Marshall.

'Heard Another Blast'

"We didn't think much of it because I figured Mom might have put some coal dust in the stove. Anyway I went downstairs with my mother and said, 'What happened, Mike?'

"He replied, 'Everything is O.K.' and then we heard another blast and saw he had a shotgun," said Stanley.

"Well I was terrified," said Stan, "when I saw that Olga was slumped over on her bed beside her son and blood was all over the place."

The young lad explained that when Stepas had entered the house his mother was still in bed in the other downstairs living room and

Boys Pummel Killer

By this time Marshall, the 12-year-old brother, had come downstairs and started to pummel Stepas as well.

"As I hung on to him he picked up a saucer and started beating me over the head," said Stan, pointing to a bloodstain on his forehead.

The young boy recalled that Ste-

Scientist Is Charged As a Spy

Atomic Official
Put Under Arrest
By Scotland Yard

LONDON, Feb. 3.—(BUP)—Scotland Yard announced today the arrest of a 38-year-old British atomic scientist on a tip from American FBI agents investigating Russian espionage.

The scientist, Klaus Emil Fuchs, was charged with giving atomic information of value to an enemy. Police said his period of espionage activity covered the years 1943 to 1945 during which Soviet agents sought atomic data in Canada.

His trail extended from Montreal, Washington to Mexico, they said. He was brought before a special session of the Bow Street magistrate court and was held for a hearing Friday which will determine whether and when he will be tried.

TWICE VISITED U.S.

Fuchs twice visited the United States during the war to work on the atomic bomb. He was an insider at both the Los Alamos and Oak Ridge installations.

No specific details on the charges were given during the court appearance. But the charge said on two occasions Fuchs had passed on atomic information in violation of the Official Secrets Act—once in the United States in February, 1946, and again in 1947.

Roads, Rail Lines Are Snow-Blocked

Airlift Brought Into Use
To Move Train Passengers

LETHBRIDGE, Feb. 3.—(CP)—An airlift from Lethbridge to Cranbrook, B.C., went into operation here today for passengers on a westbound Canadian Pacific Railway train which has been held up because of drifts since Wednesday morning.

Railway officials said a DC-3 Canadian Pacific Airlines craft from Calgary was brought in and left with about a dozen passengers shortly before noon for Cranbrook.

The Crow's Nest Pass was entirely cut off in all directions as the worst blizzard of the winter swept through the valley, piling drifts up to 15 feet. Roads and railways are plugged and little hope is seen for any movement before Sunday.

Both highway and railway are plugged solidly from Bellevue to Pincher station. A rotary plow is unable to touch the hard drifts and a bulldozer is the only hope to clear both transportation arteries.

ALL ACTIVITIES HALT

At Crow's Nest station, where drifts are up to 15 feet high and 150 feet long, snowplows attempting to clear railway tracks became stuck and a pusher engine went to help them get in the same trouble.

All train service has been cancelled until conditions improve. Coal and lumber production is at a standstill. Telephone and telegraph are the only means of communication with outside points. No shortage of food and supplies is expected.

For the first time in the history of the Pass inter-town roads are drifted so that all but Blairmore and Frank are isolated.

Meanwhile, in the Medicine Hat area, government planes began the formidable task of opening main highways, blocked for 25 hours by drifts piled up from 25 to 30 miles-an-hour winds. Road traffic to all district towns except Redcliff was blocked.

But service which carries workers to the Safford experimental station was cancelled again today as No. 1 highway both east and west is blocked at several points. Horses have come into their own again.

Plane May Be Gone Forever Says Officer

By STANLEY BURKE
Bulletin Staff Writer

WHITEHORSE, Feb. 3.—The American four engine transport, with 44 persons aboard, which has been the object of the greatest air search in Canadian history, may have disappeared forever into the vastness of the Yukon mountains.

Sgt. Ldr. John T. Arnold, of Edmonton, air force rescue expert, told today how it is possible for an aircraft to strike the side of a mountain and be immediately covered by a slide of snow. In the eternal snows of these high peaks, this may mean it will be covered for years, perhaps forever.

HARD EVEN AT BEST

Even when conditions are favorable, it is often incredibly difficult to sight a crash from the air, he explained.

At present time there are approximately 23 crashed aircraft in western Canada which have never been located.

Recently an aircraft was discovered within 35 miles of Vancouver which had been missing since 1941. The wreck of the big Strancker flying boat was found with the skeletons of its occupants still inside.

AFTER SHOOTING, killer went to abandoned farm half mile away, plunged head first into this 20-foot-deep well. Mortally wounded body from well after following tracks in snow.

Dog Mascot Is Unaffected Amid Turmoil

By CLIFFORD CERNICK
Exclusive to The Bulletin
WHITEHORSE, N.T., Feb. 2.—(BUP)—A large, black and white dog named Spike is an island of untroubled calm in a sea of roaring activity gripping this vital northern search centre.

The huge animal of doubtful ancestry has stationed himself in the centre of the busiest, most crowded and most vital office of search headquarters here.

Sometimes Spike sits from his perch and lumbers outside for a stroll to the airstrip and back. But usually he sprawls in the centre of the flight control room sleeping hour after hour.

NO EFFECT ON HIM

The ponderous dog pays no attention to the heavy traffic of humans pouring over his outstretched form. The heavily shod feet moving around and over him disturb him no more than would clouds drifting by.

The 80-pound dog was found under a deserted barracks building here eight months ago when he was just a pup. Corp. Robert J. Holland, 23, Boston, Mass., who is assigned to the airbase here, crawled under the building to get Spike.

Fliers of Canada and the United States who are seeking a missing U.S. air force transport have made their mascot. They pet him and feed him choice morsels from the officers' mess.

But Spike is unimpressed by all this attention. In the midst of a bedlam of roaring planes, jangling phones and rushing feet, Spike, mascot of "Operation Mike," slumbers away his dog's life on the floor.

Popeye To Say Who Uses Force

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(CP)—Popeye's owners, having some legal muscles of their own, won an exchequer court decision yesterday over a Montreal watch dealer.

The comic strip character with the bulging biceps must be erased from timepieces sold by the American Watch Company, Canada, the court ruled in a 1,000-word decision of the copyright status of Popeye, J. Wellington Wynn and others in Thimble Theatre.

Yukon Tests Chance Of Farming Future

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(CP)—There may be a future in North West Territories farming.

This was the word today from Dr. A. Leach and Dr. E. S. Hopkins of the federal experimental farms service. A station was re-established in 1944 at Whitehorse, the Yukon and in 1947 another at Fort Simpson.

It's still too early to report reliable results on the possibilities of agriculture in that part of the northland, the officials said. But there are definite possibilities for a number of grain products and most vegetables.

The two stations also are studying poultry and Shorthorn cattle to determine the possibilities of raising them in the land where the winters, admittedly are cold, but the summers not so different from well-established areas in Alberta.

"Although the winters are cold," said Dr. Hopkins, "the summers do not differ greatly from the months of June, July and August in more southern regions."

For example, he said, the average temperature for these months at Lacombe, Alta., south of Edmonton, is 56°. At Fort Simpson, 700 miles north, the average temperature is 56°. Whitehorse has an average of 54°.

Precipitation does not differ greatly and in the north, due to cooler temperatures and less evaporation, goes further.

Ram Jet Test Sees It 'Fly' 2,600 MPH

WOODBRIDGE, N.J., Feb. 3.—(AP)—You're flying 2,600 miles an hour. Earth lies some 15 miles below you.

There's a roar from the engine hating you through the continent in less than an hour. But you don't hear it. The roar can't catch up to you. You're travelling four times faster than the speed of sound.

The engine is a ram jet. It may power your long-distance aircraft of some tomorrow. The first it probably will be a power plant for military guided missiles—even perhaps atomic bombs—and for peaceful aircraft.

Models of such engines are being put through their paces in a new test chamber here of the Wright Aeronautical Corporation. The Ram jet can be "glowed" at speeds up to 2,600 miles an hour, and at altitudes up to 80,000 feet, where the air is 30 times thinner than at sea level.

This laboratory is the first that can test large engines duplicating high speeds with high altitude at the same time.

Britons Dive Into Campaign As Church Issues Warning

LONDON, Feb. 3.—(BUP)—Britain's political parties launched into an all-out pre-election war today after getting unprecedented advice from the church and a taste of fighting name-calling from Prime Minister Clement Attlee.

The Rev. Geoffrey Francis Fisher, Archbishop of Canterbury, broke centuries-old Anglican tradition by warning in St. Paul's Cathedral yesterday that the victors must face the "many and great dangers" posed by the hydrocarbon bomb.

While the world's top Anglican was directing his words to leaders of the nation's political parties, Socialist Leader Attlee was being quoted in a Daily Herald editorial as calling Conservative chief Winston Churchill an "unconsecrated 'hard core' Tory."

But Attlee said the "hard core" of the Conservative party still represented the "intermediate" class that "hard core" included Churchill.

Churchill, who led the party through the war, had never accepted "the conception of a democratic world of states."

CARRY LARGE LOAD

The Archbishop, whose claims the majority of Britons are members, said from St. Paul's pulpit: "The day approaches, we are told, when nations will have the power to disintegrate the very world we live in. Even now they could disrupt civilization, and another war would do it. . . . Those who seek power now seek a terrifying load of responsibility."

The Archbishop did not mention the H-bomb by name. He indicated plainly, however, that the United States' decision to proceed with it might become an issue in the campaign which formally starts today after the King dissolved parliament.

Provinces Assail CPR Cost Data

Attempt to Slash Items and Total in Freight Rate Hearing

By John LeBlanc

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(CP)—Railway financial figures aimed at proving financial need for annual freight rate increase were challenged yesterday by the provinces opposing rate boosts.

The provinces attempted to whittle about $10,000,000 off a 1949 revenue "deficiency" figure of $83,000,000 presented to the board of transport commissioners by the "varied-rate" Canadian Pacific Railway in support of the railway's claim for a further increase of about 12 per cent.

TOTAL IS ATTACKED

The provinces will try today to slash further into the railway requirement total as the board continues with a rehearing of the railway's 1948 application for a general 20-per-cent increase in rates.

The hearing stemmed from a December judgment of the Supreme Court of Canada, which in effect ordered the board to review a September decision awarding the railways only eight-per-cent of their 20-per-cent application.

The court upheld the CPR claim that the board had failed in its duty by deferring final settlement of the 20-per-cent pending the determination of some studies—including that of the Royal Commission on transportation—which the court ruled were irrelevant to the rate case.

ASK 25 P.C. INCREASE

Counsel for the privately-owned company contended that, on the basis of 1948 rail operations, the railways should have had a freight-rate increase of 25 per cent through 1949 to overcome a deficiency between earnings and financial requirements under a formula laid down by the board in its September judgment.

Spoken for the provinces, while they did not specify in the opening proceedings at what point rail rates should be held, were evasive in their attempt to hold the line at the eight-per-cent rise granted by the board last fall.

Manitoba counsel Wilson E. McLean sought to cross-examine S. J. W. Liddy, CPR assistant controller, on the company's labor notes, which were the main factor prompting the rate-increase application filed in 1948.

Hugh O'Donnell, CNR senior counsel, objected to this, declaring a 1947 amendment to the railway act did not allow the board to investigate railway wage rates when these had been incorporated in an agreement filed with the transport minister.

Hugh Wardrop, assistant chief commissioner, said his impression was that the wage question was "so far" so this case was concerned, but argument on the point was to be continued tomorrow. Mr. Wardrop was presiding in the absence of Mr. Justice M. B. Archibald, chief commissioner, who is recovering in Halifax from an illness.

Sugar Sales Up Four P.C. In Year; Also Production

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—(CP)—The government today told a sweet story of how Canada's sugar industry is expanding. It also disclosed more honey is going into storage.

Sales of refined sugar in 1949 climbed to 1,339,847,000 pounds, a jump of about 50,000,000 pounds from 1948 sales of 1,289,778,000. Production of refined sugar moved up to 1,385,675,000 pounds from 1,279,076,000.

Refined sugar stocks moved from 223,623,000 to 246,637,000, an increase of 101 per cent. Canadian warehouses held 16,417,000 pounds of honey on Jan. 1, up from last year's stocks of 5,542,000 and a slight increase from the 10,023,000 pounds held at Oct. 1. About 75 per cent of the inventory was packed in bulk containers. The rest was in consumer packages.

Same Grain Acreage Urged to Manitoba

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—The organ started humming "Here Comes the Bride."

Elizabeth Taylor clutched the arm of her father, smoothed the front of her wedding gown and paced down the church aisle to take a husband—for a movie, of course. "Well, I finally made it," giggled the young star, who had two widely-publicized near-misses at matrimony.

The wedding (to Don Taylor) is the climax of the picture, "Father of the Bride." Actually, it is the second film wedding for Elizabeth, who married Robert Taylor in "The Compromiser." But that one wasn't as fancy.

THE GREAT MOMENT

"This is what I want to do," she remarked, gazing at the flower-decked church, which may be described as Beverly Hills Gothic. There were six sisters in entourage and six bridesmaids in frilly gowns.

"I think every girl wants to have a big formal wedding," she said. "It's the greatest moment of her life."

"I think there's something about people about elopements. When people steal off to get married, they make it seem as though they're doing something wrong."

HOW CAN YOU TELL? When is her real wedding to take place? I mentioned printed statements that she would not marry for a few years, but would devote the time to a career.

"I never said that," she corrected. "It would be silly for anyone to say when they thought they'd get married. How can you tell?"

"A girl gets married when she falls in love and when a man asks for her hand. That's when it will happen to me."

Coogan Jinx Still Holds

By VIRGINIA MACPHERSON

Exclusive to The Bulletin

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3—(BUP)—Jackie Coogan's recent trip to Europe proved one thing to him—he's still a big-shot movie star to foreign fans. But he can't get a job in Hollywood.

"I've got 31 years' experience in this business. I can play anything better than anybody I know." That includes great lovers, too, says the former child star whose melting brown eyes had women all over the world wanting to mother him.

"I could handle the kissing scenes—but I don't look the part. I'm a little paunchy and plenty bald."

Coogan made "The Kid" with Charlie Chaplin when he was a wide-eyed four-year-old. From then on, until he was the 15-year-old star of "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn," Jackie was the world's top child actor.

He earned more than $6,000,000 in 11 years. And in those days you could keep most of it.

But his mother, Mrs. Jack Bernstein, and his stepfather, Arthur Bernstein, handled every paycheck he brought home.

"And when I was 21 I got

Music Lovers Seem Sorry Nobody Died

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3.—(UP)—The 36 members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra emerged from a performance of Tchaikovsky's "death symphony" —all alive.

They defied the superstition that the Pathephone symphony is fatal to its players and plan to perform it again.

"I told them before the concert," the conductor, Dr. Artur Rodzinski said, "that if anyone drops dead it will be me."

Rodzinski took a fond look at pictures of his wife and son in his dressing room before he went on stage last night. But he said he felt fine when the 42-minute piece was over.

"Any call for the undertaker?" A stagehand cracked during intermission. There weren't.

"The audience last night was swayed by what officials said were a number of curiosity-seekers drawn by the hex."

"I think," English horn player Vincent Schippl said, "they were disappointed nobody died."

Bubonic Plague Alberta Threat

EDMONTON, Man., Feb. 3.—(CP)—R. H. Paine of Leitchburg, technological laboratory, said here yesterday that two areas of Alberta, led by Calgary and Banff, have the largest potential bubonic plague area in North America.

He pointed out the incidence of bubonic plague in goats.

"Is Everybody Happy?"

It was just about 10 o'clock yesterday morning and hopped headquarter was pretty well deserted. But a "young" fellow was answering the phone, the frequent calls keeping him hopping this way and that as he straightened out callers regarding when and where they were to play. "Schiedel?" I could hear him say. "At the Edmonton... three o'clock. And to another caller: "No, you're not on the six o'clock. Just the twelve and the nine."

Put the receiver down. "Ting-ling-ling. There she goes again."

"Oh, yes. Joe. Yep, that's right Joe. Anything else I can do for you?"

After a while the heat was off—at least temporarily—and that's when the opportunity of meeting Ted Lewis for the first time presented itself.

Now don't get me wrong. This, rather appropriately, in a way, was not the Ted Lewis of the blackies, top-hat and cane routine... the little hooper who made famous the saying: "Is everybody happy?"

This was the Ted Lewis of the soccer pitch, ex-forward of North Side Legion, a guy who has filled a lot of nets since coming to this country from England more than 20 years ago.

A 20-Year Canadian

"Yep," he yipped, "I came out here in 1928." And that's when I took another look at him, because I knew he had played league soccer over there and I couldn't reconcile this fact with his youthful appearance, especially as I had him tagged as 28 years of age—or 30 at the most, to look at him.

Actually he's 41. And it's the last thing I do I'm going to start taking 2 Complex, or some other form of shot in the arm to see if I can't get rid of the bags. Or better still, the bags-under-the-bags.

It's funny how sometimes you go along for years, hearing about an athlete, perhaps writing things about him, yet never actually catching up with him.

This is how it's been with snipper Lewis and myself. In the next few minutes, while we snatched—conversed between incoming telephone calls, it developed that the snipper from Preston has some pretty definite ideas on the value of sport.

"Good sport... competitive sport is the greatest thing there is," he said emphatically. "It's all, really, that keeps people going."

He admitted that his own boy wasn't much interested in soccer. He prefers hockey and baseball. "Sure, I'd like to see him playing soccer. But I'd never try to influence him," he said.

The Draw's Okay—He Says

By now it was getting around in the time when the earliest—those who were downtown or backed up in the hotel—started dropping in to headquarters.

One who was stopped by was Ole Olson, a "spilled-headed" veteran whose most recent accomplishment was the winning of the No. 1 event at the Kingston tournament.

Mr. Olson had a brief, and as Lewis tried his best to chill it in the next few minutes I learned of his loyalty to the Alberta Curling Association and of his own line of for other parties.

"It's the last time I'll play in this 'spoil unless they get a new draw," Olson fumed. "When you can't even get time off (and it's just too bad).

"Should use the 'spill draw' anyway," he insisted. So they went at it for the next few minutes hot and heavy, mind—but without any inclination to give ground.

Others want that. He agreed with Olson that sometimes the going is a little rough under the draw being used at this 'spoil, "but the competitors are not to be blamed for that."

But he didn't see any need to blow a fuse over this feature. "Curling is a business," he offered. "And you can't mix business and pleasure."

Personally I think Ted Lewis is wrong on this one. But that's what the man said—curling is business.

Grand Prairie Ready For Golden Gloves

The postman provided the biggest impetus of all yesterday for the Bulletin Golden Gloves boxing tournament, scheduled for the Stock Pavilion, Feb. 23-24.

That gentleman deposited a letter from Grande Prairie to the sports department, the entries containing the names of seven battlers who'll make the jump to Edmonton for the big carnival of sock-and-secked.

Headliner trainer Bob Clarke's northern invasion will be 32-pounder Billy Lennane. And boxing in the middleweight will be Quintin Davidson (125), Gordon Quakers (120), Bill Vukobrat (115), Paul Halkowski (110), Ted Puchnik (105), and Albert Plattner (105).

(Plattner, Lennane and Davidson are in the novice class; at Grande Prairie is one of the most active in the province.)

Meanwhile, entries are starting to come in from other cities, including Edmonton's amateur clubs. Certain to be in there punching on February 23-24 are members of the Edmonton Boys' Boxing Club, South Side Legion, Recreation Club, and Varsity.

Boxers from the Jasper place may also be counted on under the 11 lb banner this year owing to backfist Nutsa's return from the field of amateur pugilism.

WHISTLING WHILE HE WORKS doesn't always make friends for basketball referee Ed Tomick. But he calls 'em as he sees 'em anyway and stoutly maintains present code of basketball officiating is all right. Men like Tomick will be blowing whistles when city junior men's playoffs open tomorrow night.

BASKETBALL LOSING APPEAL?

Hoop Whistle Stirs Comment

By Bart Gibb

Is basketball losing its appeal? In the eastern United States sports writer Jim Kelly wrote an article recently called, "Take the Whistle Out of Basketball." Kelly said that basketball was "being ruined by the discordant symphony of shrilling whistles."

And he also claims that it now ranks as a pastime for girls and has lost its red-blooded appeal. There are an average of 40 fouls per game in the States, which boils down to about one every 20 seconds. In the good old days Kelly recalls that 15 fouls in a game was considered scandalous.

In one particular match between Notre Dame and New York University there were three minutes left to play, but in 22 minutes to finish the tilt. "The whistle blew 150 times during that time," insisted one disgusted fan after the game was over.

NEED MORE CONTACT Kelly also blames the constant whistle blowing on the coaches' intent on scoring, building their team around fringe scrappers of men who cannot stand the strain of contact.

In order to restore basketball to the back of last, unimpaired glory, writes Kelly, the players must be allowed more bodily contact.

In the local Senior Men's loop the fouls could not come quite as hot, but in the opening game of the season a total of 35 fouls were called.

"Inexperienced and improperly coached players are the reasons for so many fouls," said referee Ed Tomick last week. "These local kids check their man too closely; they should stand two or three feet from the ballhandler and wait for him to make the first move. Of course this does not apply when under the hammer and wall for fouls."

Coach Bob Strubler, of Metcours, looks at it from a different angle. He says: "There are too many unnecessary fouls called in the centre of the playing area."

ROUGH AND TUMBLE Chas. Hollingsworth, vice-president of the Edmonton Basketball Club, agrees with Tomick. "Sports are all about rough," says Hollingsworth. "In wrestling and boxing the fans are not happy unless there's blood drawn or someone half killed. For a basketball game to be exciting there has to be a little bit of rough play."

He's in blood drawn or someone half killed. For a basketball game to be exciting there has to be a little bit of rough play.

Quakers in Second Slot After Tripping Flyers

SASKATOON, Feb. 3.—(CP)—Saskatoon Quakers last night moved into second place in the Western Canada Senior Hockey league, tripping the leading Edmonton Flyers 4-2 in a penalty-ridden contest.

Saskatoon with 39 points, takes over from Calgary Stampede with a one-point margin. Flyers still have an eight-point edge.

Quakers took a 1-0 first-period lead, Edmonton tied it up in the second, and Saskatoon came back to outshoot Flyers 3-1 in the final.

Tuesday Burlington, Red Banker, Red Staley and Bill Maher scored once each for the victorious Quakers. Maher and Staley also picked up assists.

PENALTIES HURT For Flyers, Colin Kilburn, who Wednesday night turned in a hot first period performance, scored the second second period goal and assisted in that game in the third.

All four Saskatoon goals came while Edmonton was in a 2-1 lead. Seventeen penalties were handed out altogether.

The game was marred for tripping and Colin Kilburn and Saskatoon's C. H. Hume were in a high-scoring game when Hume scored the first goal.

In that game Hume drew five minutes and Quakers tied.

In the second it was Quakers who suffered for roughness. Hume scored the score on Steve Lashby's pass. Henry Hutton and Quaker defence, was serving an interference fine. The ratio again was 5-2, but Saskatoon failed to capitalize on the five shorthands.

ROOF FALLS IN Edmonton slipped in to a quick 2-1 lead early in the third, with Galtie slating a screened shot past goalie John Sotak. Kilburn shared the same with Lashby. Then the roof fell in on the Flyers.

Pettinette went off for holding, and Quakers blinked the light three times in one minute and 19 seconds.

Hentley got the first one on his way to Mike Shingha and Alex Kuntz. Ken Hunter set up the tie for Staley and Maher, who also assisted on Staley's counter drive.

As for the Flyers, they were in a state of confusion. The game was being set.

A $1250 reduction in the 1950-51 season ticket price was requested by the Saskatoon Quakers, who are in a state of confusion.

The amount was computed as the percentage of gross take directly attributed to Eskimo activities. In consideration of the prestige these activities brought to the city.

It was definitely understood no proceeds were being set.

A complete revision of fee for use of the Stadium was requested by several organization members at its meeting last night. A basic and a sliding scale of percentages were suggested. The proposition, John Jarvis, will bring in a report to the next meeting.

FINES Edmonton's Fredrick, C. H. Hume, Colin Kilburn, and Henry Hutton were fined $5.00 each for tripping.

SUMMARY First Period: Quakers 1, Flyers 0. Second Period: Quakers 1, Flyers 1. Third Period: Quakers 2, Flyers 1.

Varsity Athletes To Saskatoon

Several University of Alberta athletes came left for Saskatoon last night to take part in some intercollegiate activity with University of Saskatchewan.

Included on the agenda are curling, basketball, and football matches. Skips of the Alberta team are Stu Hally and Matt Hally, while Mark Hood will skip the curling team.

Pipers will play Cadomin miners in Cadomin on Saturday night and Sunday afternoon.

NOTHING BUT DOUGH IS AT O'Brien's theme here as he carts off bags of buckles to bank for makekeeping. Since opening up a professional wrestling business here 18 months ago the Bay of Plenty has sold away more than a few pretzels. And he figures to walk off with more of that long green stuff when Whipper Lilly Watson grapples Al Mills next week.

FOOTBALL

Esk's Given $1,300 Rent Reduction

A $1250 reduction in the 1950-51 season ticket price was requested by the Saskatoon Quakers, who are in a state of confusion.

The amount was computed as the percentage of gross take directly attributed to Eskimo activities. In consideration of the prestige these activities brought to the city.

It was definitely understood no proceeds were being set.

A complete revision of fee for use of the Stadium was requested by several organization members at its meeting last night. A basic and a sliding scale of percentages were suggested. The proposition, John Jarvis, will bring in a report to the next meeting.

Fate of Many Canadians Decided by February's End

By MEL SUPRIN

Ottawa, Feb. 3.—(CP)—An opinion directly affecting 600,000 Canadians will be provided within the next 25 days by the Supreme Court of Canada.

Before the end of February, Chief Justice Thibault will say the court will give a legal opinion on whether the federal government has the constitutional right to maintain rent controls.

The court concluded four days of hearings yesterday.

A number of times throughout the hearing Chief Justice Ritchie emphasized that the opinion provided by the court would not be binding.

The federal government, its rent-control program challenged by the Landlords Association of Canada, asked the court to say whether it has the constitutional power to maintain that program.

If the rent controls are found to be beyond the powers of the federal government they will lapse March 31. From then on, controls will be purely a matter for the provinces, which under normal conditions have constitutional power over such matters.

If, however, the court decides that the controls are valid, the federal government plans to continue them for at least another year, gradually removing them.

F. P. Varcoe, Deputy Minister of Justice, set the tenor of arguments supporting validity when he contended that if rent-control was valid when passed in 1941 then it is up to the federal government to decide when the emergency is past and the controls no longer necessary.

Further support for validity came from Attorney-General Dana Porter of Ontario. Maurice Weight of the Canadian Congress of Labor, John J. Robbette of Toronto representing the Canadian Legion.

16 EDMONTON BULLETIN, Friday, February 3, 1950
Three opposing validity were L. Emery Beaulieu, representing the province of Quebec, and R. M. W. Chitty of Toronto, counsel for the Property Owners Association.

Hardy Drivers Start Second Lap of Race

THE PAS, Man. Feb. 3.—(CP)—he won. His time was five hours, 34 minutes and 45 seconds.

The field of 12 hardy trail veterans was pared to 10 on the gruelling quest for the Canadian championship of dog racing.

Leading the numbers so far in their 144-mile race was Jack Heard, a government conservation officer from The Pas. Last year Heard was runner-up, and two years ago—the first year of the Trappers' Festival which stages the spectacle from his own race, had some satisfaction. His son Albert mumbled home ahead of the pack in the 12-mile Northern Manitoba Junior championship race. He covered the course in one hour and 11 minutes.
